Our countermeasure against the nationwide state of emergency regarding the spread of coronavirus

Following the state of emergency to prevent from the coronavirus (COVID-19) declared on April 8th, in principle, our employees in the designated prefectures have been working from home (WFH). Furthermore, on April 16th, a new state of emergency was declared widening the target area to all over Japan, and following the local governments' request, we have determined to limit our nationwide business activities.

Our employees who need to go to the office cooperate continually to keep thoroughgoing precaution; avoiding “Three-Cs (Closed spaces, Crowded places and Close-contact settings)”, utilizing flexitime system, promoting the wearing of masks, hand-washing, gargling and so on.

Please contact the person in charge in case urgent product service or delivery is required. We are going to work with customers, under the safe and clean environment. We might take extra time to complete the operation, and hope you would understand this situation.

This is planned to last until May 6th, however it might be extended depending on change of the situation.

We apologize for any inconveniences, and your kind understanding is highly appreciated.
